plan" he declared.
The premier dealt mainly with Mr. Joffe's statements of Wednesday night in which he said Joffe disclosed "he was quoting from the records of the criminal investigation branch of the Ontario Provincial Police, which, according to his own statement, were marked secret and confidential." Mr. Joffe also made it clear he had access to those records for a year.

Levant Trouble Not Yet Settled: British Watching

Lebanese independence, which is the cause of the present trouble, the governments of Syria and Lebanon are claiming that France is attempting to control both republics by armed force.

Meanwhile the situation in Damascus, where the most serious losses of life occurred, has been between the French troops and the Syrians.

READY FOR ACTION
British troops, ready for action at the slightest sign of another clash, have been alerted at all points held by the French and all French troops now back in barracks. British forces have been ordered to ensure that they remain there until a final settlement of the dispute between the French troops and the Syrians.

The French reluctantly gave the "cease fire" order on Thursday night after receipt of the preliminary note from Prime Minister Churchill saying that if the order was not issued British troops would move in to enforce peace, but a Damascus report said that the French had not issued the order.

BRITISH CHEERED
In Damascus the city's inhabitants, crowded into the streets for the first time since the "cease fire" order, cheered the arrival of British troops. The British tanks, cars, and renewed demands were made for the French to withdraw altogether from Syria and Lebanon.

The demand from Great Britain that the French should cease hostilities and seek a peaceful solution to the Levant crisis, came from Prime Minister Churchill last night, when the Soviet Union and the United States stressed the need for "urgent measures" to bring about a conflict by peaceful means.

Russia's action puts the next step in the conflict by peaceful means. The latest word from France is a refusal to join in any truce or conflict by peaceful means.

"OUT OF QUESTION"
"Such communications are out of the question at present," is the statement made by the French Ministry of Information. "After the 'hard line' received from Prime Minister Churchill, the French spokesman said, 'General De Gaulle is in no mood to take a step towards a truce or conflict by peaceful means.'"

De Gaulle was also seen to be in a mood to take a step towards a truce or conflict by peaceful means. The latest word from France is a refusal to join in any truce or conflict by peaceful means.

NO CHANCE TO REPLY
Latter in a radio address, Mr. Joffe said Premier Drouin "is obviously taking great care that I shall not have an opportunity to reply in substance the premier's charges that a secret political policy operated in Ontario."

In his final radio address prior to Monday's vote in the Ontario election, Mr. Joffe said the premier at having broadcast might make the CCF leader "extremely sorry" charges were laid.

Club Speaker
Dr. R. M. Hardy of the University of "A" will speak to fellow Borden at the city's weekly luncheon meeting next Thursday on the subject, "Engineering as a Human Science."

Hog Production Theme of Parley

The serious decline in hog marketing will be discussed with Hon. James A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce, by John Burns, chairman of the National Pork Producers Council, at a conference to be held at the Macdonald hotel.

Police Expose Activities of Coupon Gang

more than the proper number of coupons. The remaining coupons were supposed to be mutilated by cutting and burning.

At the time, Sgt. Coggins reported, through lack of work, the sheets were not cut, but were taken to the furnace directly. The coupons had placed the sheets of coupons in the furnace between quantities of heavy paper and when representatives of the oil controller's office left the basement, the coupon sheets were removed, most of them were scorched.

Defence counsel, R. F. Jackson, said that the accused had been induced to commit the offence of the five coupons. The majority of the five coupons was the gang and "before he knew what he was doing, he had become involved in the transaction. He had met the other persons and was 'taken into the act'."

Speaking for leniency, Mr. Jackson said his client was "thoroughly misled by the gang. He was a law-abiding citizen who didn't need to get money that way."

W. Stanley Row, acting for the crown, pointed out the seriousness of the transaction but added "I am satisfied in my own mind that the accused was more of a tool than the person responsible."

In passing sentence, Magistrate Jackson said he was "purposely lenient, as part of the penalty accorded had allegedly made on the deal."

CLEAN UP DAMASCUS
Meantime steps are being taken by the Syrian government to clean up Damascus.

Every building in the centre of the city, excepting the French defence offices, today have the marks of gun-fire.

One entire block between the French barracks and government house was gutted and scattered by continuous fire from French 15 which poured mortar shells Wednesday and Thursday night.

The parliament building is riddled from shell and machine-gun fire, while the interior, sacked by Serenagile soldiers, is a shambles of overturned furniture and debris strewn everywhere.

The heaviest shelling was directed against the centre of town, the northern residential district and the Citadel. The Orient Palace hotel, where most foreign representatives stop, still is standing, but few of its added rooms are usable.

Telephone, telegraph and overhead trolley lines are down everywhere. There is no electricity and food is scarce.

Swedish Desires Canadian Trade

Sweden was in a big way to import 15,000 of them had joined the Canadian armistice forces.

"We are interested in the great strides that Canada has made and believe there should be closer relations between our two countries. We have so many things in common, be it our general outlook and interest in the international field."

"Our position when the European war broke out was rather difficult. During the war we had no political ties with any of the big power groups," Mr. Wikman stated.

He said that as the war closed the Baltic to Swedish shipping about 600,000 tons of shipping that was on the ocean had been chartered by the Allies. During the war the period 400,000 tons of this shipping had been lost through enemy action.

In Sweden there was a lot of interest in increased trade with Canada and trade missions already have visited the Dominion. Sweden would be in a position to export high grade steel, some agricultural implements, saws, tools of various types.

Sweden has been a buyer of Canadian wheat in pre-war days. The Canadian hard wheat being imported into Sweden.

Justice O'Connor Returns to City

Mr. Justice George B. O'Connor and Mrs. O'Connor have returned to Edmonton after 14 months in Ottawa, where the judge who is chairman of the Wartime Labour Relations Board, has been holding sessions of the board in Ottawa and on Monday will take the case to the criminal court here.

Life reports that his brother, Mr. Justice Gerald O'Connor was sworn in to the Ontario bench at the Exchequer Court of Canada and after the event a party of former Edmontonians was given him.

Garages Continue Operating Hours

Continuance of the "seven to seven" hours for selling gasoline was decided upon by Edmonton garage and service station operators when they met Friday afternoon.

The sale of gas was restricted to 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. by Dominion government regulations until recently when the order was cancelled.

Operators decided to continue on the schedule at least until gasoline rationing is lifted, it was reported. Under city by-laws they may stay open until 10 p.m. and may operate on Sundays, which was now allowed under federal restrictions. Until further discussions are held the operators have decided to remain closed voluntarily on Sundays.

It was decided to have another meeting in a few weeks to discuss a sale time schedule for a period following the lifting of gas rationing.

Sentences Imposed On Theft Charges

Morris Gordon, Edmonton, was sentenced in supreme court Saturday by Mr. Justice Hugh John Macdonald to serve one year in the Saskatchewan jail on a charge of attempting to break and enter the McLeod dispensary.

William Tymoshuk and Stanley Chapman, charged with the same offence, were sentenced to serve six months in prison. The longer term was given Gordon because of a previous conviction.

suitable for Swedish needs for building purposes. Canadian metals, aluminium, copper, nickel, zinc, lead, also are needed in Sweden.
Commenting on Sweden's maintenance of independence during the European war, Mr. Wikman said this undoubtedly had been of great importance to the world. Sweden had said that it would fight if attacked and had steadily strengthened its forces to defend itself against invasion.
"If we had been weak in our wish to resist aggression, or in the power to resist invasion, the story might have been different," he pointed out.
Mr. Wikman will be the guest of honor at a dinner at the Macdonald hotel Saturday night tendered him by members of the Swedish community here.

Eyewitness Tells of Razing

Nothing Bigger Than Brick Remains on Site of Lidice

By SEAGHAN MAYNES

LIDICE, Czechoslovakia, June 2.—(Reuters)—The first eyewitness story of the destruction of the Czech mining village of Lidice and the massacre of its men, executed by Kurt Daluege, chief of the German gendarmerie, followed the assassination of Reinhard Heydrich (the butcher) by Allied parachutists in Prague, three years ago, was given yesterday by Anna Strbiny, who lived in the neighboring village of Makotry.

Standing on the scattered small stones on a grassy mound which used to be the village church of St. Martin, she pointed out spots in the cornfield where 111 houses and the village school had covered one square mile before German vengeance eliminated them.

Nothing is left except stones, none of them bigger than a brick but in the middle of the cornfield a shrine has been erected in memory of Lidice and its dead.

It took three days for Lidice to be razed to the ground and three terrible-fifteen days and night, as told by Mrs. Strbiny, whose relatives died in the massacre.

"The week after Heydrich was shot, on May 25, three years ago, the Germans drove into Lidice and razed the village. They took away 14 members of the Horak family and three of the Strbiny family who had sons in the underground in England and then nothing was left."

Edmonton Well Served

In 1930 Canada elected a government which was committed to introduce a policy of economic nationalism, and which did not want Mr. Bennett did not intend to go the whole way, for he could never quite forget that unless markets were found abroad for what and other surplusage, the country could be no such thing as prosperity. But he went far enough to destroy what hope there was of developing export trade in a world suffering from deflation.

What followed is remembered from end to end of the Dominion, nowhere more bitterly remembered than in western Canada. Goods accumulated, factories closed, unemployment spread, farmers went bankrupt, stagnation settled over confidence vanished, hope died, and the country was nearer down and out than it had ever been before.

It surely is also remembered that when in 1935 the economic nationalism idea was discarded and a policy of trade expansion adopted, conditions began to mend, slowly at first but surely. When the war broke four years later very substantial progress had been made in reviving trade, enlivening business, and improving the situation generally.

A good deal has happened since 1939, and what has happened in Canada makes it even more now than it was in 1935 that our national policy be aimed at securing markets abroad and the maximum export of products and surplusage. It is assumed at home. Before the war our chief need abroad was a market for farm products. But industrial plants have expanded and multiplied under the pull of war demand, and we require now to find buyers outside for enormous quantities of factory products.

Inter-trade trade has to be two-way trade. People in other countries cannot buy what we manufactured goods unless we take what they produce in return. Canada's tariff will have to be framed to encourage imports, not exclude them, if we are to export the volume necessary to keep our people employed and to maintain a national income keeping with a higher standard of living than in pre-war times and with the heavier debt burden we have to carry.

Whatever faults are found with the present government, it has not been attacked and caused to change its policy ground that it has been indifferent or hostile to export trade or to an import policy deliberately aimed to encourage export trade. The record of the four years of peace which preceded the war is clear on that point.

There is no part of Canada with such a heavy export of farm and some other products of products as more than half to Alberta. Here the export of surplus property depends more upon maintaining a tariff and trade policy designed to encourage exports and to keep down the cost of imported goods.

In the furtherance of these policies no one has been more active than the member for West Edmonton, George A. Mac-Kinnon, who is also minister of trade and commerce. Nor has any private member been more earnest in backing his efforts than the member for East Edmonton, Mrs.
Casselman.

This city and district have been well served by both. It is this all-important matter of finding markets for what we must sell outside Canada, as in particular their record regarding trade and trade policies, both deserve to be re-lected.

A Tourist Influx

By 1946, says Mr. Leo Dolan, chief of the Dominion Government Travel Bureau, Canada will begin to feel the effects of the tourist influx in history. By that time most of the restrictions on gasoline and new motor cars will have been lifted, in his opinion, and the American public, weary of being tied down by war, will be ready for great migratory movements.

If this is true, Mr. Dolan is in a position to know the news is particularly significant to Edmonton. For this is the entrance to the northwestern part of the country, the gateway to the west, the intrigued the imaginations of people from one end of the United States to the other.

Moreover, because of the long postwar in the city for tourists, the great American civilians, Edmonton is perhaps the best known Canadian city among people of the United States.

So whatever Mr. Dolan says of Canadian tourist traffic in general applies with particular and peculiar force to Edmonton.
The point to consider is what Edmonton proposes to do about it. Certainly this prospective situation has a direct bearing upon every plan now being formulated for the improvement of the city after the war. That is to say, this tourist prospect enables Edmonton to step up every proposed expenditure along these lines.

The building of parks, the paving of streets, the clearance of slum areas, the development of the city for the future, the take on a new importance in the light of a heavy tourist business.

For if this city could spend one dollar

Government Aid is Required to Treat Arthritis

"Greatest Crippler of All Diseases and Attacks the Young"

By HAROLD L. WEIR

The government of the province of Alberta is engaged in a campaign to educate the public in the treatment of arthritis, the department of health has issued a pamphlet, "What is Arthritis and how to treat it," which is being distributed free of charge to all who suffer from the disease.

This is a splendid humanitarian service. Plans have laid to extend it as time goes on.

There is another disease, however, which is being neglected. It has a higher incidence than cancer and tuberculosis and even heart diseases. This disease is arthritis and until some government aid is given towards its treatment, it will continue to be a major cause of disability in the Dominion.

PRIVATE BUCK—"I'll help ya down, Buck, but first I wanta call one of the movie men over!"

University of Alberta Students Receive Naval Warfare Training

Canada's universities have gone to sea. Of the four western Canadian universities where naval divisions are maintained through the term as a part of the accredited curriculum, 274 sea-going students have completed two weeks intensive training in ships of the Royal Canadian Navy operating on the Pacific coast and in naval establishments.

From the University of Alberta, 80 students sailed aboard the battleship USS Oregon, and other seaman gear training as ratings of the Canadian Navy. They are learning the hard, where second year students underwent two full weeks at sea with first sea time allotted first year students.

DIVIDED ENROLLMENT
Members of the University Naval Training Division, or UNTD as they are more often called, are made up in an average 2000 enrollment of seamen and sailor ratings.

While at University and while at sea, men from the villages, farms and cities of Alberta take the same training as ratings of the Canadian Navy. They are learning the hard, but through way.

During their two weeks of practical seamanship training aboard the fast Fairmile sub-chasers or in corvettes and minesweepers, UNTD seamen were paid active service rates of pay, were furnished with a full kit including two uniforms and lived in ships company quarters along with the crew. They ate along hammocks and worked side by side. They answered "hands to action stations" at the wheel, at the depth charge racks or at duty assigned them. They learned how to fire boilers and all workings of the engineering in Canadian fighting ships.

Based at HMCS Naden while undergoing training on the Pacific coast, the UNTD training has this year been under the supervision of Edmund W. G. Taylor, RCNVR. His job has been to see that every man has had a varied training program as could be fitted into the navy's wartime training and operational time-table. And while ashore in naval establishments, UNTD men were taught the rudiments of the art of seamanship or attended lectures and classes at the mechanical training establishment.

STAY IN NAVY
Many of the UNTD sailors have continued to stay in the navy until the end of their summer holidays when they will return to university and continue their education. One back at university, if a student-sailor doesn't come up to academic standards, he is automatically in the navy on active service. If he makes good, he faces a naval selection board as a potential officer-candidate in the Royal Canadian Navy in the executive branch for seamen and engineer branch for sailors. It is the hard way—but worth it.

Canada Troops Leave Holland For Trip Home

By WILLIAM BOSS

NIMMIGEN, Holland, June 2.—(CP)—The first draft of Canadian soldiers to head home—1,000 strong—left the repatriation camp here yesterday morning under command of Maj. G. A. Burton of Toronto, on the first leg of the trip to travel to England by ship.

The remaining 4,000 of the total draft of 5,000 began flying to England Saturday in daily batches of 1,000.

All will join in the Alderhot area for final documentation. A ship already is waiting at a British port and it is believed likely this draft will be in Canada by mid-June.

Jap Balloon Scare at Coast

Lad and Kite Cause Alarm

VANCOUVER, June 2.—(CP)—A large object, at first believed to be a Japanese balloon, had residents of Vancouver City hall district worried for some moments just before sundown last night. Police alerted with telephone calls and Western Air Command ordered two fast fighter planes to the scene with orders to "blow" the "balloon" away from the city and shoot it down in the bay if necessary.

The "balloon" however, when recognized by the planes, suddenly began evasive tactics and started descending toward the city. For a time it appeared that it would land directly on top of the City hall, but it changed course suddenly.

As it neared the ground, nervous policemen noticed the "balloon" was square, not round. Investigation disclosed it to be a large boxkite. At the end was a small boy, oblivious of the alarm he had caused.

Navy Will Quit Base in Ireland End Next Week

By SUB. LT. GORDON WALKER, RCNVR

LONDON, June 2.—(CP)—The Royal Canadian Navy will quit its base in Ireland next week. The Irish Canadian Navy will quit its base in Ireland next week. The Irish Canadian Navy will quit its base in Ireland next week.

The migration from Northern Ireland's "Little Canada" began late in May and by June 10 only memories will remain with the hospitable Irish people—memories and perhaps a few habits and idiosyncrasies acquired from Canadian seamen.

Plan Rehabilitation Of Service Doctors

OTTAWA, June 2.—(CP)—Canada's 4,000 service doctors—many of whom are four or five years out of civilian practice—can plan their re-establishment upon demobilization on the basis of a 37-page rehabilitation handbook drawn up after a 16-month survey of the medical situation and released here last night.

Maj.-Gen. C. P. Fenwick, army director-general of medical services, says in an introduction that the majority of serving doctors had indicated a desire to acquire additional medical knowledge—either through refresher courses or in more prolonged postgraduate training—before resuming or entering civilian medical practice.

The survey considers refresher courses, postgraduate training facilities and salaried positions available in Canada. There are 1,357 vacancies for refresher courses open to medical officers during the next 12 months. There are about 150 appointments available in teaching schools and not appointments in non-teaching hospitals. These courses are paid for by the government and charged against the service doctor's mustering-out credit.

The bill represents the sign of Taurus in the zodiac.

Only now can we tell of the snowmobile's tons of fighting steel and armour built to straddle the top of snow that would swallow men to their waists. The snowmobile is exclusively Canadian in idea, design and manufacture... it has no counterparts.

Many types of vehicles have been built and used to carry doctors and other civilians over treacherous Canadian snowfields. Ski air proved trackless Canadian sleds... none of these proved pellers and half-tracks... Department Munitions and Supplies engineers created a new design... and the job of providing traction was given to the job of providing traction.

Goodyear technical experts.

These men had one special advantage, for they possessed long years of experience accumulated by Goodyear in building better tires, belts, tank treads and a host of special rubber products for war and peace. They tackled the new problem and came up with a complete solution.

As a result, the finest snow vehicle in the world today rides on a combination of Goodyear's rubber and steel tracks. The weight is carried on wide tracks of rubber belting clad with steel and supported by 16 All-Weather Goodyear tires. The rubber tracks are good for 30,000 miles of dry ground. Even if thousands of miles of dry ground, the enemy fire should smash holes in the tires, the vehicle will run for hundreds of miles.

It is another victory for Goodyear research and technical skill. It is one more demonstration of the pioneering leadership behind every Goodyear product. It helps to explain why, as Goodyear's slogan says, More People Ride On Goodyear Tires Than On Any Other Kind.

A Challenge to the Women of Canada!

The magnitude and value of the contribution to our war effort by the women of Canada cannot be overestimated. In the armed forces, in the war plants, in the war charities and elsewhere, in a multitude of volunteer groups, particularly in aiding price control and ration programs—individually and collectively the women of Canada have proven a giant bulwark of strength that the dictators never counted upon. Their wonderful women goes the heartfelt thanks of a grateful nation.

Now comes a New Challenge!

The women of Canada will probably wield the balance of power in the coming election. Their voice will probably decide which side the Regina Manifesto is to experiment with "State Socialism." Hence, it is tremendously important that we come to power we are going to have a lot to say about luxuries. We are going to put a stop to the production of all goods and services that are not good for the community.

Under Socialism, the C.C.F. politicians would decide what to be manufactured; who was to make it and how much could be made. From profit to perdition, from men to machinery, the Government would control everything, and we thought that this would not really happen, read the following from a recent letter on the subject of luxuries written by Henry Gibson, one of the C.C.F. promoters.

"To the Editor of the Star: I am an original member of the C.C.F., and took part in the discussion from which the Regina Manifesto emerged and I can say with the full authority of this experience that the women of Canada are going to have a lot to say about luxuries. We are going to put a stop to the production of all goods and services that are not good for the community."

Well, ladies how do you like that? And remember that Mr. Gibson is not fooling! He'll probably be one of our leaders if the C.C.F. comes to power. That the Socialists underestimate the intelligence of the women of Canada is shown by their attempt to fool them with tricky promises in shown by letters we are receiving from a letter from Mrs. W. G. Robert of Halifax:

"I purchased your book and read it from cover to cover. I found it most interesting. I was looking for enlightenment on the C.C.F. policy. I bought several more books and read them to my friends. It is the first time we learned what is really going on in the C.C.F. movement, and I only hope thousands more will read it."

Here is another stirring letter from a woman in Saskatchewan who signs a small note, but who is not fooled by C.C.F. assurances that the "little fellow" has nothing to fear from Socialism:

"I have a strong conviction that the C.C.F. is a menace. They have a good front, with some good, well-meaning people. But when they get in power the masses who have been paralysed by their shyness will show themselves and we will have something on our hands to get rid of. I have my convictions and I would like to do something about it, but I am tied down with my little home. Then, too, I have always been backward, and I'm afraid now that I'm just an ignorant who doesn't know what she's talking about. If the C.C.F. comes to power, I wonder what freedom they will allow us. Am I wrong?"

Ms. Mrs. Storker, you sound very sensible, and we only hope that all women in Saskatchewan and in their individuality, appreciate the very words that confront them under C.C.F. State Socialism. Every woman should read this book, and without delay. Our little book "Social Suicide" to encourage women to read this book, and to conduct a Quiz Contest for $1,000 in cash prizes. There are 250 prizes for $1,000 in cash prizes. Write to the book and address to Public Information Association, Box 178, Toronto, Ontario. The book, with details of the $1,000.00 contest.

AND REMEMBER

A vote for any C.C.F. candidate is a vote for State Socialism, and State Socialism means Dictatorship. So, unless you want the politicians to take over complete control of your life, be sure to get out and vote on election day. Urge all your friends to vote against the C.C.F. candidate—no matter who he is—because he is positively committed to State Socialism.

Edmonton News In Brief

Good Prices Are Received At Bull Sale

Reflected in the Edmonton Bulletin LACOMBE, Alta., June 1.—An average price of $29.21 was received for 148 bulls and 12 females which passed through the ring at the annual hereford bull sale at the central Alberta pavilion. The largest crowd in the sales history packed the pavilion to see the judging of the animals and the sale which took place in the afternoon and early evening.

Buyers, brothers, Penick, paid the top price for the $10,825 for Real Domino, a hereford bull in the 24 to 30 month class bred by Leslie Underwood, Penhold.

Average price for 41 hereford bulls was $27.69 for four, Aberdeen Angus bulls brought an average price of $27.14 for 30 short-horn bulls sold for an average of $22. In addition 12 females were auctioned off for $3.48 for an average of $285.

ENTRIES JUDGED

Judging of the entries took place during the morning. Judges were: Hereford champion, Real Domino, owned by Leslie Underwood, Penhold. Reserve champion, Real Prince Domino, 4003, owned by Albert J. Elliott, Clive. Aberdeen Angus champion, Alcantara Prince 2nd, entered by W. F. Freeman, Lacombe. Reserve champion, Bandoler 20, of Daphnec, owned by C. D. Flint, Jr. of Wetaskiwin.

Short-horn champion, Initial Breeze, entered by W. J. Manuel, of Initial. Reserve champion, Elmered Hero, entered by G. O. Elliott, Clive. Judges were Joe Biglands and Hugh Sharp, both of Lacombe, and Alex Mitchell, of Reserve champion, Aberdeen Angus, and Geo. Hay of Initial, Hereford.

J. J. Chisholm, veteran secretary-treasurer of the Central Alberta Cattle Breeders' Association, declared it was the best sale held here by the organization in twenty years.

Volunteer Bureau To Take Holiday

At the general meeting of the Citizens' Volunteers held May 26, it was decided to discontinue the general meetings during the holiday season. Executive meetings will be held as usual.

The meeting was addressed by Joseph Mackenzie, who spoke of the campaign being carried on by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to get out the vote. He made an appeal for the help of the bureau in this respect. It was agreed that the bureau would appoint a publicity committee to assist in this project. This is up to the hands of the present committee.

Appoint President Manitoba Varsity

WINNIPEG, June 2.—(CP)—The second time in 21 years the University of Manitoba has chosen a Manitoban as its president. He is 45-year-old Albert W. Truman, of Saint John, N.B., who succeeded Dr. Sidney K. Smith, president-elect of the University of Toronto and former dean of law at Dalhousie University, Halifax.

The appointment of Mr. Truman, now superintendent of Saint John schools, was announced yesterday by H. A. Bergman, chairman of the university's board of governors. He is expected to assume his post Aug. 1.

Air Cadet League Has 30,000 Young Men Training in Canada

The future has been fought for Canadians by a generation of young men many of whom have not lived to see the shape of the things they bought. Considering the tremendous price that has been paid, surely it develops upon every citizen at this time to give extra thought to the value of the country, and to do everything possible to guarantee that it will be left in good hands. That means that adults must concern themselves increasingly with the training of young people, according to J. H. Wildman, national director, and provincial chairman of the Air Cadet League of Canada.

"Before this war many of us felt that youth training was solely a matter for government," he said. "We paid our taxes and let the administrators do the rest. Now, most of us realize that this way is not enough. We realize that young men must cooperate actively in the training of our young people. There are several ways in which this may be done. We can take part in financial support to youth movements and groups, or by serving on civilian committees, or by giving financial support to youth movements and demanding to know exactly how our money is being spent."

GREAT CONTRIBUTION
"I am a member of the Air Cadet League of Canada, an organization which has 30,000 members. It is a training across the Dominion, and which has turned out thousands of young men for air service with the RCAF during the last three years. I believe that the Air Cadet League is one of the great constructive jobs of youth training in Canada today, and that reason I would like to tell you something about its operations, and perhaps enlist your support in its behalf."

The Air Cadet League of Canada was formed in the dark days of 1941 to serve two main purposes. One was to give youth which now has been discharged. The other was a longer range purpose, to make available a basic training in aviation and citizenship to better fit Canadian youth for peacetime careers, either in the Service, in civil aviation, or in other walks of life.

"The League is now going ahead in this second purpose, and is adapting its training to the new tempo. In the future, as in the past, our training will be primarily for the young men who are to be subjected to Service discipline, and they will be taught rigidly, and given the greatest traditions and achievements of our air arm.

"During the last three years I have visited Air Cadet squadrons all over the province and have in contact with many of the young men taking our training. Far from being over-enthusiastic, they have become more respectful, more confident and balanced as a result of the training infusion.

SOME BENEFITS
"I have seen countless boys snatched up, into jobs find companionship, find new friends, find new goals, find new outlets for their best abilities. And best of all, I have seen boys who used to spend their idle hours hanging around outside school fences brought inside and put in direct contact with men who have already distinguished themselves in aviation, and who instruct by their own fine example.

"There is a certain amount of classroom work in connection with Air Cadet training, and that the boy derives considerable educational benefits—and very practical ones. He gets instruction in such essential chronological subjects as signalling, meteorology, and navigation."

Parkallen League Asks Bus Service

Bus service will be asked for the area which extends from 75 avenue south to the city limits and from the C.P.R. railroad tracks west to 112 street by the newly formed Parkallen Community League. The only bus in this area is a school bus on 15 avenue from 104 street west to 118 street.

At present the Parkallen League, formerly the Calgary Trail Community League, is engaged in raising sufficient funds to build a recreation and social center.

The bus service is being requested for the summer months of 1946, and for the winter months of 1947. The bus would be used for social and recreational purposes, and for the transport of children to school.

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

TOP man for U.S. Signals and the senior league for the 17 games in which he played last season, Jim Junker showed not the slightest sign of easing up, and in fact he has increased the tempo of his hit coming in the last games played to date. An average of .363 is a fairly robust figure.

Junker batted .277 a year ago, collecting 23 hits in 84 times at bat, but he already has nine in 16 trips. Dave Brockie who won the title in 1944 with .331 and Les Nelson was placed second with .324, are both right back with the leaders again this season.

In addition to ranking second to Norm Carney and Nick Mankovich for runs batted in, having five as compared to the Arrows pair six, Junker is tied with Ed Schuster, Signals and Ivan Crumly, Yanks. For triples with two. He also has stolen a couple of bases, one less than Frank Finn, Arrows, who leads in that department.

BERT HAS GOOD START
BERT CULVER, who headed the list in bases on balls last season with 27, is away to a good start with four, the same as his teammate Richard Bate. George Greer, Dodgers and Lester Nelson have gathered in three, and Jack McMillan, Al Supervisor, Taintor, Sawyer, Harry Haber and Columbus Burchfield two each.

John Galvin, Johnny Gray and Nick Mankovich are the only home run hitters to fall and Culver is out in front for doubles with four, Beane and Crumly have driven in three runs each and McGill, Ken Smith, Joe Shandro, Doug Stevenson, Culver, Schuster, Sawyer, Burchfield, Valenti and Gray all have two runs batted in.

Helmuth Brown, who will be pitching against Arrows tonight, against Garret, Johnny Gray, Wal-

Bill Kasting Gets Credit For Victory

A game that was rather tame in the early stages wound up in a breath-taking finish at Clarke Stadium Friday night when Arrows hung on desperately in the late innings to edge out South Side 7-6 in the first Edmonton Junior Baseball League title of the season for these two clubs.

South Side, obviously a little shaky for their first time before the crowd, made no fewer than four errors in the first frame, but after that they settled down and gave the Arrows a good run for their money. And with a little more hitting power they might have turned the trick. They showed after the first inning more than made up for their first-inning miscues.

Red Grange, who has just retired the presidency of a proposed new football circuit, says "Players are holding out for between $400 and $600 per game when they used to get $150."

Steve Duda, who was quickly put out by Tami Martello, started on the comeback trail last October, after returning late in 1940. The high point in Stevens' career was in 1938, when he travelled to Berlin, Germany, to meet Max Schmelling and was knocked out in five rounds.

Canadian AC Sets August 23 For Junior Golf

The first of the annual open golf tournaments sponsored by the Canadian Athletic Club has been set for Thursday, August 23, and will be played over the Prince Rupert course.

Club members and guests have been received, according to Perry Derrieger, chairman of the committee, and it is expected the total eventually will reach about 200.

Entries to date include young golfers from several towns in the north half of the province. The tournament is open to all golfers in Alberta, and is expected to be one of the strongest.

AZA 13-0 Defeat Junior Football

Combines moved back to a first place tie in the City Junior Boys' Football League Friday night when they whitewashed AZA 13-0 on the two-bit pitching of John Romanchuk.

Romanchuk held the AZA club in a bind in the first inning by Alvin Lasowsky and a single in the field in the sixth by the same Lasowsky.

Combines, led by Bill Green, jumped on two AZA shutouts for a total of 12 hits including a triple by Romanchuk.

It was the fourth straight victory for the Combines.

Red Grange Quits Pro Grid Loop
CHICAGO, June 2 - (AP) - Red Grange, Illinois' immortal "gallin' hen," disclosed Friday he had resigned as president of the professional United States Football League and declined post-war football would throw promoters for a financial loss.

The circuit was organized last fall with plans to enter teams in Akron, Baltimore, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, New York and Chicago with an eight franchise, undermanned. Whether Grange's action will leave the post-war field open only to the long-established National League and the embryonic All-America Conference was conjectured.

Mortons Blank Walk-Rites
In Close Fastball Fixture

A run in the first inning by Joan Dainault and another in the third by Joan Grange supplied the margin of victory as Mortons shut out Walk-Rites 2-0 Friday night in a City Girls' Fastball League game at Kingsway Park.

The win strengthened Mortons' grip on first place in the three team loop.

Anastasia Thompson won her fourth career game, no defeat when she held her former teammates to seven hits in the nine innings. Only one of the seven safes went for an extra base, that being a double by Marge Wilson in the second.

Joan Dainault scored first in the coming inning after getting on base on an overthrow at first by third-sacker Greta Burdick. She advanced to second on a sacrifice by Kay Lyons, went to third on an out by Greta Lafleur single to short.

Joan Grange tallied the only other marker of the game in the third when she singled to left field, went to second on a pass at first, third was passed ball and was driven in by Dainault.

Following is the box score:

Forty-Five Members CWAC Class Receive Training Certificates

Maj. Gen. Guy R. Turner, C.B. MC, DCM, inspector general of the Canadian Army for Western Canada, presented certificates to 45 members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps at a graduation ceremony of No. 13 Vocational Training School at Prince of Wales Armoury, Friday afternoon.

The members of No. 13 VTS, Veterans' Guard of Canada formed a guard of honor, and the bugle band sounded the general salute as Major General Turner appeared on the square. After the presentation of certificates, the pipe band of the same Veterans' Guard Company led the guard of honor and the graduates in a march past.

Major General Turner, in his address, had words of commendation for the Veterans' Guard. "It is always a pleasure to receive old comrades of two wars," he stated. To members of the graduating class he stressed the importance of the job each would do: "You are in a position to contribute to the war effort in a very real way."

At the inspection were Maj. W. A. Oliver, MC, ED, officer commanding No. 13 VTS, Lt. Col. R. C. Macdonald, MC, ED, and other officers.

THE QUESTION
What do you think of the decision by bookkeepers to lay back on bracket coupons?

THE ANSWERS
HARRY FRASER, clerk. Their decision seems to be the only one they could take. Wartime Housing Limited has said it will handle the bookkeepers' coupons for rent, and without tenants' checks. It is not necessary for the Housing Commission to conform to city building regulations.

WILLIAM TAPLOW, bookkeeper. I hope that the bookkeepers' action will not result in any further delay in the payment of their coupons. I am sure that the Housing Commission will be able to handle the coupons for rent, and without tenants' checks. It is not necessary for the Housing Commission to conform to city building regulations.

Short Talks
by
Hon. Jas. A. MacKinnon

Our returned men and women are coming back to a land of opportunity. Every returned man and woman has the legal right to his old job, provided he applies for it within four months after his discharge. He is to get his job back. If the war has been his, his favourable employment by his service employer.

We are determined to maintain full employment in Canada. We have performed miracles of production in war-time. We will continue to provide jobs for all parts of Canada.

Returned men and women will receive the largest and most generous gratuity payments and readjustment credits to be found anywhere in the world.

More than that, they will benefit from a long-range programme that will train them for better jobs in the future. Every war veteran can receive vocational training without fee, or a university education, for a period equal at least to his or her length of service, special provisions made for those who wish to go on to the farm.

Pension payments are on a scale comparable to the gratuities paid to war veterans. Full medical care is guaranteed on demand.

If you cannot tonight meet at 6:15 to 8:15 p.m. on freight rates and our rail policy (no subject of great interest and concern to the property of all Alberta citizens).

Soroptimists Elect Officers

Miss Jenny Wilson was hostess at the 15th meeting of the Edmonton Soroptimist Club when the members celebrated the ninth anniversary of the club's formation. The tea table was centered with a blue rose lighted with candles which were blown out by the four remaining charter members: Mrs. Wilkeson, Mrs. M. J. Brown, Mrs. G. Reeves and Miss Louise Hume. The officers for the year were elected as follows: President, Miss Margaret Fraser, vice-president, Miss Grace Hume, treasurer, Miss Kenna Gair, committee convenor, Dr. G. H. Brown, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Pearl Welch, Mrs. Dorothy Singleton, Mrs. Cuthbert and Mrs. Lennie McCall.

Following the election, the report of the regional conference held at Regina on May 19 and 20 was given by official delegates, Mrs. Gladys Murray, president of the club, and Mrs. Dorothy Singleton.

The theme of the conference was expansion and service, the conviction being that there will be a great need for service and a need for community awareness of urgent needs following the war.

A paper on Rehabilitation, written by Mrs. Kate Lyons of the Edmonton Club, was given approval. The paper contained a thoughtful discussion of the question of employment for all as an important objective of economic policy of Canada. It was excellent, the writer said, that measures be taken to remove the barriers of employment for women.

Matters regarding training for household work were raised by Mrs. Hume, who was well-entitled to competent services of well-trained, helpful and efficient employees were entitled to reasonable hours and wages.

Western Canada Soroptimists decided to make a survey regarding the economies adopted in various industries and the regulations which apply when men citizens were given industrial training in the war.

Considerable money has been raised by the various clubs during the past year in many ways, such as giving funds for the unemployed services, such as the Soroptimist club which is essentially a service club.

Mrs. H. J. Spence, executive chairman, Vancouver, held last session.

AIRMEN LEARN HOW TO RESCUE THEIR PALS WHO CRASH HIGH IN RUGGED MOUNTAIN TERRAIN
Rigid training for air rescuers includes the ability to compete with mountain goats in leaping from ledge to crag when crash victims are in inaccessible places. Training was held in the Rocky Mountains because of the rugged nature of the terrain and the multitude of obstacles.

Full medical equipment is carried by the rescuers and they are taught to give first aid. The spruce boughs make a soft temporary bed for the victim receiving aid. Toboggans are used to haul victims to planes, waiting to take them to hospital.

Across chasms that cut deep into mountain areas, victims are transported in slings fashioned after the style of breeches buoys for rescues at sea. For this training picture, the "victim" is Cpl. J. W. Baker of Wallaceburg, Ont. When rescue parties are out, there's always a plane waiting to take the victim to the nearest hospital.

JEIN THE LUFTWAFFE NEVER GOT—Deep in a soft mine at Tübingen, near Schöneck on the Elbe river in Germany, American troops discovered in this room 30 feet long, 40 feet wide and 40 feet high a Nazi jet plane plant. There were 100 planes for 117 1942 planes were turned out before the end of the war.

AFTER ATTENDING SERVICE IN ST. PAUL'S—After passing in national thanksgiving for the defeat of Germany last Sunday, the prime minister and Mrs. Churchill are seen as they left St. Paul's cathedral.

U-BOAT TORPEDO HIT ST. LAWRENCE SHORE, NOW TOURIST ATTRACTION—Enemy explosives damaged Canadian homes and battered Canadian windows along the St. Lawrence. On the evening of Sept. 5, 1942, an enemy blast sent bricks spinning from chimneys in the fishing village of St. Yvon, 60 miles up river along the St. Lawrence. The torpedo was fired from a German submarine and was intended for a Canadian ship. Roche Cote, a lumberman-fisherman-handyman, who spied the torpedo in 20 feet of water, dragged it to the surface with an anchor and now has it on display in his home as a tourist bait. In above photo Therese Broquette lies on the torpedo's motor section.

AS GERMAN AT ST. NAZAIRE FINALLY SURRENDERED—St. Nazaire, where a German garrison had held out while the Allies had by-passed them in the drive into the Reich, finally surrender. Here Col. John W. Keating of the U.S. 66th Division hands them the uncompromising terms.

VIOLENT STORM HITS MONTREAL—A miniature tornado swept Montreal and district Tuesday, May 22, creating havoc among trees and dwellings. The wind reached a velocity of 76 m.p.h. and was accompanied by a downpour of rain. Hundreds of trees were uprooted like the one shown above.

SUPERMAN
JERRY SIEGEL AND JOE SHUSTER

MAJOR JOE HALL, VACATIONING AT THE FIGHTING FRONT, HAS HAD A CLOSE CALL FROM A JAP GRENADE—BUT HE SAVED HIS OWN LIFE IN SPITE OF SUPERMAN'S ATTEMPT TO RESCUE HIM.

ME TOO! BUT LOOK, SUPERMAN—I WISH YOU WOULDN'T FEEL YOU HAVE TO PROTECT ME EVERY MINUTE!

WHEW! FOR A MOMENT I THOUGHT YOU WERE A DEAD PIGEON!

BUT DON'T YOU KNOW THAT PICKING UP LIVE GRENADES AND TOSsing THEM BACK AT JAPS IS DANGEROUS???

OF COURSE I KNOW IT, BUT IT'S FUN—AND THAT'S WHAT I'M HERE FOR!

THAT DESK JOB IN WASHINGTON IS SO SAFE—THAT'S WHY I ASKED YOU TO BRING ME HERE FOR THIS LITTLE VACATION!

ALL RIGHT—I WON'T PROTECT YOU. BUT REMEMBER, PLEASE—I'VE GOT TO GET YOU BACK TO WASHINGTON!

THE FIRING UP AHEAD'S GROWING LOUDER—WHICH MEANS WE'RE CLOSE! REMEMBER YOUR PROMISE, SUPERMAN!

I WILL—BUT FOR HEAVEN'S SAKE BE CAREFUL!

TEN MINUTES LATER...

JOE!—PLEASE!!

REMEMBER—STAY OUT OF THIS!

AND A HALF HOUR AFTER...

LOOK!—AT LEAST TAKE COVER—WON'T YOU???

SURE—AS SOON AS I TOSS THIS LAST EGG!

THEN, NOT MUCH LATER...

I—I CAN'T LOOK!

NO NEED TO! THERE'S NOTHING TO SEE—NOW!

PLEASE, JOE! EVEN MY SUPER-NERVES CAN'T STAND THIS MUCH LONGER! HAVEN'T YOU HAD ENOUGH YET?

I GUESS SO. LET'S GET GOING, SUPERMAN...

ONCE AGAIN THE MAN OF TOMORROW WINGS HIS WAY ACROSS THE WIDE PACIFIC AND THE WIDTH OF THE NORTH AMERICAN CONTINENT.

I'M AFRAID I'VE TAKEN A BACK SEAT ON THIS ADVENTURE, JOE! YOU DID ALL THE SUPER-STUFF.

I CAN'T THANK YOU ENOUGH! NOW I CAN GO BACK TO MY DESK JOB WITH NEW VIGOR AND ENTHUSIASM!

LATER—IN WASHINGTON—

I'M A BIT WORRIED ABOUT MAJOR HALL, GENERAL. HE SITS THERE SMILING AND GAZING INTO SPACE MUCH OF THE TIME!

IN LOVE, NO DOUBT. HAPPENS TO THE BEST OF US, COLONEL...

TOO MUCH CAT

The TEENIE WEEENIES

WM. DONAHAY

THE Teenie Weenies have a number of friends among the chickens, dogs and cats that live near the big houses along the lane not far from the Teenie Weenie village. There is one young cat, though, that is not very welcome around the little people's village. Ginger is his name and he is not really a bad cat, but he is sometimes careless and a little rough. He is rather playful and it isn't very pleasant for the Teenie Weenies to have a cat pounce at them, especially when the cat is so very big and the people so little. However, the Teenie Weenies managed to keep out of Ginger's way and in that way they were able to get along without much trouble. But one day the cat did something which made the good natured Teenie Weenies very angry.

Fishing had been good in the creek for several days and the Teenie Weenie men had caught a number of minnows. Now, fresh minnows are very tasty when stuffed and baked, or when slices are dipped in powdered beech-nuts and fried in nut oil. But minnows can't be dried and salted for future use so well as the larger fish. Although the little men had been fishing for bigger fish, they had had no luck. They were very discouraged and had almost decided to quit fishing when they hooked a really big fish.

The Cowboy, the Chinaman, the Dunce and Gogo caught the fish after a long and terrible battle. The fish was fully three inches long and the little men hung onto the line for over an hour before they were able to drag it near the shore. While the men were nearly tired out with their efforts to hold the fish, they were delighted to catch such a whale, for it would keep the Teenie Weenies supplied with preserved fish for many days.

The Dunce tugged at the fish's fin while Gogo and the Cowboy pulled with all their strength. With a last mighty effort they dragged the fish up into shallow water just as Ginger leaped out of the tall grass. Now, cats are very fond of fresh fish and Ginger lost no time in grabbing this one. He whisked the line out of the Teenie Weenies' hands and disappeared with fish, hook and line.

The Teenie Weenies were very angry, for they had worked mighty hard to catch the fish. That night they held an indignation meeting in the Teenie Weenie town hall. The old felt hat which the little folks used for a town hall fairly rang with strong speeches against Ginger and the little people appointed a committee to ask Jack, their dog friend, to chase the cat away from the Teenie Weenie village.
